“ I remember the love and genuine compassion that Daisy showed toward me while at St. Mary. Daisy and I could talk and talk and her favorite subject was her children and their progress. No matter where we bumped into each other, we always exchanged hugs. And Faybie, AJ and Patience are the type of children that love being loved. Just like their mother. What a deep part of our hearts still yearn for Daisy. Bill, you must feel lost, and you should. I love you and wish you peace. I am so sorry that Daisy is not a part of this world any longer. I am confident, though, that she is saving you all a spot.
