David Lynn Amick from Indianapolis, IN passed away on October 16, 2022. David was born in Rushville, IN on September 23, 1943. He was the loving son of Charles A. Amick and Dorothy Humes Amick. “ I met Dave when working at Blocks Men's suit department, and we became great friends. I met up with him at Waltons much later. But Dave and I had our longest conversations at Meijer, much later on. We were living in our house of 38 years just down SpringMill. One day a few years ago, I noticed Dave was not around any more, and even discussed with management where he might be. I was wondering, because we were both getting up in years. One of the things I will always remember, is Dave bought me my first legal beer at the bar in Glendale on my 21st Birthday!! As you can see from my comments, I will always remember Dave fondly, and is not someone I will ever forget. He was so kind to my wife who he had known all our married life (54 years) and was impaired by brain cancer for 30 years and he brought a smile to her face when he saw her with me at Meijer. Just today I was remembering Dave, and looked up this site and found this information. Dave is gone, Wife is gone, and hope to meet up with both again in the future.
