“ I didn't know Glen, but after reading his obituary, my heart has been touched by him. He died knowing and being in an intimate relationship with Jesus who no doubt was his strength, peace, and comfort as he endured such physical hardship and tragedy over his lifetime. His family members were no doubt very much blessed by him and will remember him for the rest of their lives. May God shower each and every family member with peace and comfort at this time. Glen is with His Savior and best Friend now and will be for all eternity. There is great comfort in knowing that!
