“ Me and McKillop were good friends right after high school. We might not always made the best decision in life back then but his dedication to friends and loved ones was unmatched. Without fear of repercussions he always had your back. Even though we grew apart his selfless actions will always stay with me. That kind of dedication to his close ones will forever stick in my mind. He was rough around the edges but forever a blinding light of compassion. I will never forget u buddy. Love u man!!

“ Was just talking tonight about when we were all over at Keith and Loras and the kids wouldn't listen and we were yelling at them. Well I look around and Mikey and Daniel were laughing at us. When those kids got together it was on. RIP Michael. This world can't touch you now.
