“ The first time I met Jeff was when Theresa started working at McCullough-Hyde Hospital. It was like I knew him for years. He was so friendly.
Jeff will be missed by all of us that knew him. Knowing people like Jeff shows that there are still good people in this world. We all learn from beautiful people like him.
Rest in peace my dear friend.

“ Many a night I spent with Jeff patrolling the streets of Rushville. He spent several years giving his time to make Rushville a little safer place to be while wearing the uniform, ready at a moments notice to do what needed to be done. Always a smile on his face and a joy to be around.

*Shed not for him the bitter tear nor give the heart to vain regret.
Tis but the casket you see hear,
the diamond that fills it, sparkles yet.*

Rest in Peace My Brother

“ Jeff, Theresa, Destinee . . . if I mention one, they all come to mind. I love the unity and love they expressed as a family. That same love pulled me and our household in as family. He would send me country gospel songs and bluegrass pickin's a lot thru msgnr. A couple of times, his guitar and my mandolin would make the birds listen, to him more than me. :) We laughed and talked about life on the front porch. Theresa got a word in now and then as we would swing while Destinee snickered. I wish our nation could feel and know more of the family love and trust that we all shared. Thank you Jeff, Theresa, Destinee for allowing me the honor and experience to know that some of the good gettin' older folks from the good old days are still around to keep that good old days feeling alive. He always had an Amen for a prayer ending 'in Jesus name.' So, I will say "Good-bye for now.", Jeff. Tell Shelina, that great gettin' up mornin' is not too far away. Love and prayers continue for T, Des, and family.
