“ Allen and family,
I really adored Marilyn; she was one of the most likeable people I knew. Even though I only got to see her once a year during our annual grower meeting, Marilyn was no stranger. She always was so welcoming to the Red Gold group, and after we would finish having great tomato discussions, Marilyn and I easily conversed about other topics that was important to us, such as our family, animals, etc....I think Marilyn kept a perspective on things that was truly important and probably did a great job of balancing everything. She was always so friendly, easy to talk with, and full of joy.... I am sure that most people who met Marilyn would say the same thing, that no matter how much or little you got to see her, that her kind demeanor would always speak volumes. And without fail, year after year, she would always prepare some of the best refreshments for us for that meeting-- it was always fun to see what she would come up with! I knew Marilyn as a warm, kind, generous, and inviting spirit. We will all miss her, and my heart is with you during this very difficult time. May God be your strength.
