“ My thoughts and prayers are with the family today in mourning the loss of Michelle. To be honest, most all of my memories go back to a different era of all of the family dynamics of when I was married to David, and she was married to Bob. Michelle was a wonderful cook, but another talent that she had was being able to make her home a beautifully decorated and comfortable place to visit. She had a definite eye for decor (besides all the Longberger baskets that just seemed to multiply on their own!) She and David did a lot of teasing and joking during those visits years ago. Bob would brag that the food was great because it was from his farm, and she'd roll her eyes :) The kids had so many toys and clothes, that it seemed Michelle was having a rummage sale in the garage several times a year and would be generous in passing items down to her cousings, including Abby. Our kids played together as we all would sit and visit for hours. Those were simpler times, simple memories, but nice to reflect on because there were smiles and laughter heard in her home. My sincerest sympathy to each of you.
