“ One of my most favorite memories is when Mindy live around the corner from my house. I had to take my car home and Mindy wanted to drive to my house. We get in the car and before she could drive two car lengths and stop at the stop sign, I made her stop the car and trade me places. I didn't know that she had never driven before. After many many many years, she finally had a drivers license. There are so many memories. Rest well my friend!
