“ I spent most of my younger boyhood years with the Gipson family. Denny and I met the first day of Kindergarten and have remained friends since. Ruby was like my second Mom. I loved her homemade bread, the aroma of that bread when you walked into her kitchen drove us nuts until she gave us a slice with warm butter. Ruby patched up more that one stubbed toe and scratched knee for me. The cookouts at Sleepy Hollow will always bring back fond memories. She was a loving Mom, but when she snapped the whip, you had better settle down. Ruby and my Mom never worried about us when we played outdoors well into the evening. They knew we were at one home or the other. I will always remember her with fond and loving memories.

Ruby at age 94 bowls a 156. We kept distracting her from looking at the score until it was final, (we didn't want to jinx her). Look at the joy in her face when she realizes the score!
