

Shelia Schlechty

December 14, 1944 - November 2, 2012

Shelia Schlechty, 67, most recently of Louisville, Kentucky, passed away on November 2, 2012. Shelia was born in Rushville, Indiana on December 14, 1944.

She committed her life to her family and was always there for them when they needed her most. Her spark and enthusiasm will be missed by all whose lives she touched.

Shelia has one daughter, Jennifer Schlechty, of Louisville, Kentucky and a step daughter Krista Flannigan of Idaho Springs, Colorado. She also has two grandchildren, Daniel Rademaker of Louisville, Kentucky and Lily Flannigan of Idaho Springs, Colorado. In addition, she leaves behind her husband of 45 years, Phillip Schlechty, her mother and father Verlia Moore and John Moore of Rushville and two brothers, Mark and Jeff Moore.

Though she had lived in several different places, her place in the world has always been defined by her experiences in Rushville, where she grew up and where she had a strong extended family to nurture her. It is for this reason that she requested that when the time came she would like to be buried with her family in Rushville's East Hill Cemetery. This request will be honored on Tuesday, November 6, 2012. Visitation will be from 11:00 A.M. to 1:00 pm with the funeral commencing at 1:00 pm at Moster Mortuary, Rushville.

“ Sheila was a classmate of mine for nearly 12 years. I always enjoyed Sheila. She was always cheerful and a lot of fun when we grew up together. I am very sad to hear of her passing. My condolences to her family.
