“ We have many fond memories of our relationship with the Peters family over the years. We know that our relationship does not have to end here upon this earth but can continue in that place God has prepared for us. But we must be prepared. James Stewart said, "Let us live as a people who are prepared to die and let us die as a people who are prepared to live." Life to the Christian really begins at death when we will enter eternity and be where we were created to be with our God. We will be attending a memorial service for our youngest brother's son, Jordan, age 19 on the same day and time that Ted's service is so we regret to not be able to be with you our friends during this time of bereavement. We will be in prayer for all involved as you honor Ted's life and memory. As long as each of us live, Ted's memory will live on.
