“ Terry and I were neighbors for the past 12 years and he was truly one of the most caring souls I've ever met in my life. For the first five years of living in my home, during the winter months, I would come home from work and my sidewalks would be shoveled. It was only because of one day when I got off work early and came home, that I found out that it was Terry who had been shoveling my sidewalks all those years because on that day, I found him shoveling. He was also a very devoted caretaker to my dog, Beatrice, when I would go on vacations. I am going to miss my sweet neighbor. My sincerest and heartfelt sympathy goes out to his family.
